

How To Crochet V Stitch Tutorial

For my “Oversized Crocheted Blanket” sweater I used the V-stitch. I really enjoyed it because it’s easy and created a fabric that had a nice drape and texture. Below you can find a picture tutorial to help you use the v stitch in your projects.

Pattern:

Chain any number of odd stitches (For my sweater I chained 79)

(Please note that on row 2 and for the remainder of the pattern you are double crocheting into the SPACE between the two double crochet stitches that form the V shape)

Row 1 2 DC in 5th ch from hook, *skip 1 ch, 2dc in next ch. Repeat from * across the row. 1dc in last stitch, ch 3, turn.

Row 2 Make 2 dc in space below 5th ch from hook (this is the space between the first V shape formed by 2 dc stitches). Make 2dc in the middle of each dc group across the row. At the end of the row make 1 dc in the last stitch, which is the turning chain from the previous row. Ch 3, turn.

Repeat row 2 until your piece measures 31 " long.

Start with your chain

Double crochet in 5th chain from hook

Make another double crochet in that same stitch

Skip a chain and make another set of two double crochet stitches in the next chain. At the end of the row, make only one double crochet in the final stitch.

This is at your start of row 2. You begin with a chain of 3.

Work a double crochet into the center space of the first group of double crochet stitches.

I've made a double crochet into the first group of dc stitches.

Make another dc stitch into the same stitch.

You've now made a V.

Simply make another dc into the next group of dc stitches. You will make a total of 2 dc stitches into each group. Repeat this across to the end of the row. When you reach the end, simply make one dc into the last stitch (the ch 3 from the previous row).

That's all there is to it! Do you think you'd like to try this stitch?
